Frightful Explosion at a Fire in Chester, Pennsylvania.

ABOUT TWENTY PERSONS KILLED AND NEARLY ONE HUNDRED WOUNDED.

President Arthur said to be Prospecting for a Matrimonial Venture—Wheeling Agitated over a First Class Scandal.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 17.—About 6 o'clock this morning an explosion occurred at the pyrotechnic works of Prof. Jackson, in this city. The building was badly shattered, took fire and was consumed. At least fifteen and probably more lives were lost and many dangerously wounded. The building is the old homestead of Admiral Porter. A number of colored families lived in the old Porter mansion. It seems it first took fire and while the firemen were playing on the flames and a large crowd surrounded them, the explosion occurred, scattering destruction far and wide. The number killed is between 15 and 20, and about 20 were dangerously and 50 more or less seriously wounded. The dead are being laid out in the city hall and wounded cared for in various drug stores, so no accurate list can be obtained.

LATER.—Fourteen lives were lost by the explosion, three fatally injured and fifty more or less wounded. Part of the mansion had been used by Prof. Jackson, pyrotechnist, for some years as a place for manufacturing explosive commodities. The firemen, after being assured there were no explosives in the place, went to work. After playing on the flames about an hour a terrific explosion occurred. Bodies of men were thrown in every direction, and the air filled with rubbish. The ground was covered with victims—some killed, some seriously injured and others badly hurt. Dead bodies of men lay coiled on the ground, others labored in the agonies of death and a number writhing in their blood, moaning and groaning piteously for help. Many lay insensible to their surroundings and others, bruised and bleeding, groped their way from the scene of the terrible accident. People prayed in the open streets, and the shrieks of the dying were appalling. The fire has been abandoned and everybody, in condition to do so, has turned attention to alleviating the distress. Houses in the vicinity of the explosion are converted into hospitals and the wounded removed thereto.

Burning of the Chester Military School.

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 16.—The military academy was burned this evening. There were 130 cadets attending the academy. The young men succeeded in saving most of their personal effects, and much of the furniture, apparatus and libraries were gotten out. The building was four stories high, overlooking the city, and was built at an outlay of $120,000, by a stock company, in 1865; loss, $100,000; insurance, $75,000. All state and government property was saved. Soon after the fire broke out, a heavy rain began falling, which damaged much of the rescued property. The origin of the fire cannot be definitely ascertained, as the laboratory in which it was discovered contained nothing that would explode or ignite.

Further Blaine Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The Times prints some further diplomatic correspondence. Our minister at Paris, Morton, wrote the American government that president Grevy was anxious with England to join in mediation in the Peru and Chili matter. Blaine wrote Morton in reply:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, Sept. 5.—SIR: I have to acknowledge receipt of your dispatch, No. 6, of date Aug. 11, 1881, giving an account of your interview on the day previous with the president of that republic in regard to the attitude and correspondent relations of France, Great Britain and the United States with the South American states of Chili and Peru. The remarks made and suggestions offered by President Grevy concerning the situation of affairs in Peru have received that careful and respectful consideration due to the utterances of so eminent a statesman and the chief magistrate of France. I hasten to say that this government agrees with him in profoundly deploring the disorders and sufferings that have already fallen upon and others that continue to impend over the people of Peru, and fully share the humane and enlightened sentiments which have inspired a personal interest in that unfortunate struggle, and have induced him to suggest a concerted effort by France, Great Britain and the United States to bring the conflict to an end. Such interventions are frequent in European diplomatic history, and have been sometimes followed by beneficial results in preserving the equilibrium of the powers, but the United States has not belonged to that system of states of which France and Great Britain are important members, and has never participated in the adjustment of their contentions. Neither interest or inclination leads this country to wish to have a voice in discussion of those questions; but our relations to the states of the American continent are widely different, and the situation is so nearly reversed that this government, while appreciating the high and disinterested motive that inspired the suggestion, is constrained to gravely doubt the expediency of uniting with European powers to intervene either by material pressure or by moral or political influence in the affairs of American states. These republics are young sisters of this government. Their proximity of situation, similarity of origin and form of government, unity of political interest on all questions of foreign intercourse, and their geographical remoteness from Europe, have naturally given to American states close and especial relations to each other, and in the course of time removed them further from the European system. The interests, commercial and political, of the United States on this continent transcend in extent and importance those of any other power, and where these immense interests are concerned this government must hold prestige of position and influence, and will insist on independent action in the contest between Chili and Peru. The United States has watched the progress of the struggle with painful interest, and endeavored, as opportunity offered, to arrange terms of peace, and will say to the French government that while the interest which President Grevy has manifested for the cause of peace, and his sympathy with the unhappy victims of this war, find an earnest response from this government and the people, the United States declines to enter into negotiations with European powers nor joint intervention in the affairs of Chili and Peru. I am, etc., J. G. BLAINE.

A Scandalous Case at Wheeling.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 17.—Hon. A. W. Campbell, editor of the Wheeling Intelligencer, prominent in the Chicago convention because he would not vote for Conkling's resolution to support the nominee of the convention, has instituted proceedings at Wheeling for a divorce from his wife. One night last week he had arranged to leave Wheeling but missed the train, whereupon he returned to the editorial room of his paper and worked until 3 o'clock in the morning when he started home. He had hardly got the door of his dwelling opened when a man whisked past him out of the house with nothing on him but his undergarments and carrying his clothes in his arms. Mr. Campbell chased him into a livery stable two blocks away where he was opposed by a colored hostler, friendly to the fugitive, but finally he discovered the man crouched down in a dark corner of a stall. Drawing him out into the light, Mr. Campbell, who is a man of powerful physique, jerked him to his feet to get a good look at his face. On recognizing him he said, "Oh, it's you is it. That's all I want to know," and walked away. Mr. Campbell went to a hotel and spent the remainder of the night. The man whom he had run down in the livery stable was George K. Wheat, a leading merchant of Wheeling and one of the wealthiest men in the city. Mrs. Campbell is very young, very beautiful and highly educated. Mr. Campbell married her about four years ago, when she was a teacher in a female seminary at Wheeling. She is his second wife. Her maiden name was Hallowell. Mr. Wheat is married and has several grown up children, among whom are four accomplished daughters. The event is the talk of Wheeling, but owing to the prominence of the parties concerned the papers of that city have refrained from mentioning it.

A Prospective Mrs. Arthur.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 17.—A rumor that Miss Ida Farrell of this city, who is visiting in Washington at the residence of Robt. G. Ingersoll is being paid particular attention by President Arthur, is creating quite a flutter in social circles here. The story comes from a personal friend of the young lady's family, and is quite generally credited among her acquaintances. Miss Ida is the only daughter of one of Peoria's best-known citizens. She is a blonde of medium size, good looking, and of graceful and stylish appearance, and well educated. For several years she was the belle of society here, and in the opinion of many was the most handsome woman in the city. She has quite a penchant for private theatricals, and on several occasions appeared in amateur entertainments in the leading female part, sustaining her role quite creditably. A cousin of hers, Clinton Farrell, is now a resident of Washington a brother-in-law of Ingersoll, having married the latter's wife's sister.

Failures of the Week.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—R. G. Dun & Co., of the mercantile agency report 154 failures for the week, a somewhat greater number than last week, the increase being of speculative failures in grain and cotton, principally in New Orleans and Chicago. In New York the principal failure was C. T. Hardy & Co., shipping and commission, which is enveloped in mystery. It is not known what they owe or what their assets will be. Hardy has not put in an appearance since the failure and the debts are mostly abroad. Distribution—Eastern states, 15; western, 30; southern, 90; middle, 21; Pacific Coast and territories, 13.

Suit for Damages.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 17.—In the circuit court the Northern Transit Co. has begun suit against the Grand Trunk railroad for damages placed at $50,000, based on a breach of contract. In 1879 the Grand Trunk contracted with the transit company to form its eastern connections. It is alleged by the latter that the railroad did not fulfill its contract by furnishing the required number of cars.

Readjusters Ahead.

RICHMOND, Feb. 17.—Wingfield, a straightout republican heretofore acting with the democrats and belting readjusters, voted to-day with readjusters allowing the last named to gain control of the legislature.

Mrs. Garfield's Answer.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 17.—J. H. Rhodes, secretary of the Garfield monument committee and near friend of Mrs. Garfield, to-day, interviewed by an Associated Press correspondent, to-day said Mrs. Garfield received a letter from Mrs. Scoville this morning and that he was authorized in her behalf to say that toward the slayer of her husband she cherishes no malice. He must answer only to his God and the American people. For the sister and all members of his family she feels only profound pity, and further than this, asked to be left alone with her sorrow and to be spared being dragged into useless and torturing publicity. Mrs. Garfield will not answer the letter.

Proceedings against Railroad Company.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 17.—Secretary Dunkel of the department of internal affairs placed a list of seventeen railroad companies doing business in this state in the hands of the attorney general requesting him to proceed against them because of failure to return to the auditor general their annual reports within thirty days after the expiration of the financial year. The penalty for each road is $5000.

Hanged for Patricide.

INDIANA, Pa., Feb. 17.—J. G. Allison was hanged to-day for the murder of his father. The murderer was stolidly indifferent to his fate and would not recognize his mother and sisters when they visited him in his cell. His only words were, "I've been fetched here wrong."

Another Report Denied.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 17.—A reporter who called upon Mrs. Garfield yesterday was informed no letter from Mrs. Scoville had been received. Mrs. Garfield has a great aversion to referring to the subject in any manner, and it is believed that she would give no attention to such a plea from Mrs. Scoville or any other person.

A la Oscar Wilde.

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Hugh Allen, and other young men of leisure, have organized a fox-hunting club, and will import a pack of hounds and professional huntsmen, and follow the English regulation scarlet coat and knee-breeches style of dress.

Funeral of Dr. Howard.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—The funeral of Dr. J. Emilio Howard, whose imprisonment in Cuba some years ago created much feeling between the United States and Spain, took place to-day.

Astonishing Reports.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—A local paper says the governor of Illinois has received information that in southern Illinois women and children are dying from starvation. The reports although not credited will be carefully investigated.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

The O'Connell Court Martial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Evidence in the O'Connell court martial has been concluded and both sides rested. On Monday next, Col. Dickenson, who has appeared for defendant, 1st Lieut. John O'Connell, since the first sitting of the court martial, (Jan. 4th), will begin his argument in defense. The case will be submitted soon thereafter.

A Sad Accident.

Through private sources it is learned that a sad occurrence took place on Sunday morning at Cuffey's Cove, on Russian river, involving the death of Mrs. Hannah Johnson and her baby and a white man employed as cook. Mrs. Johnson's husband is an engineer at Moore & Smith's lumber mills at Cuffey's Cove. His family consisted of his wife and an infant one month old. He occupied the upper portion of a two-story house on Back river, not more than twenty feet from the edge, and at the foot of a hill. The ground had become soaked by recent rains and at about nine o'clock Sunday morning while the men were working among the logs they noticed the indications of an impending landslide. Two of them ran off as fast as they could to give an alarm to the persons in the house and assist them in escaping. There were but three persons in the house at the time but before the men reached the house a large tract of land suddenly started in front of them and slid down the hill carrying the house with it into the river. The house turned completely over and the three inmates were engulfed. The body of the cook was recovered the same evening, but those of Mrs. Johnson and her baby have not yet been found.

Mason Kinne presided, and after hearing report of committee on credentials adjourned to 2 P. M. At that session 85 delegates answered to their names. The reports of commander, assistant quartermaster general, deputy inspector and other officers were referred to a committee consisting of comrades Holmes, Sweetzer, Bennett, Collins and Duncan. The report of the committee on "Veterans" Home was referred to comrades Houghton, Taber, Backus, Bartine and Warfield.

NEVADA.

Comstock Notes.

VIRGINIA, Nev., Feb. 17.—Superintendent Patton arrived here this morning, and the word now is that development of the north end mines will be pushed as rapidly as possible. In about one week connection will be made between the Joint Union and Sierra Nevada and Mexican and Union winze. What water and rock from the point where ore has been struck in the drift into Mexican ground will go directly to the Union shaft instead of being pumped and hoisted through the winze on the 2500-foot level. Prospecting in Mexican will then be vigorously pushed. In the meantime work will proceed at a point where ore was found in the Union. Next week miners will be put to work on the ore body on the 2500 level of Union. The Savage connection is not made owing to intense heat. Water is still slowly rising at Yellow Jacket.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Victoria Notes.

VICTORIA, Feb. 17.—The steamship Hylton Castle has arrived at Nanaimo and reports that she saw no signs of wreckage on the upward passage.

The weather for the past fifteen days has been inclement, and alternate gales accompanied by snow and rain have swept the island. This morning a terrific norwester is blowing, and the air is bitterly cold, the thermometer showing about twenty degrees of frost. The winter in the interior has been mild, with but little snow, and stock is doing well.

Extensive preparations are being made by cannery proprietors and seal fishermen for the canning season. Victoria has now a fleet of 19 sealing vessels, 8 being steamers.

The British bark Breslovaslo is loading salmon for London, for Welch, Rithet & Co.

Eight thousand dollars worth of goods, attempted to be smuggled in by a Chinese firm under false invoices, have been confiscated.

An important discovery of bituminous coal was made on Monday on a farm near here by eight men who were sinking a well. The seam is eight feet in thickness.

Ship Ericson went to sea to-day with coal.

Blaine on Garfield.

Great interest is felt at Washington in the Garfield memorial oration, to be delivered on the 27th of the present month by Mr. Blaine. A Washington special says:

"That is going to be a very curious performance in the house of representatives on the night of February 27," said a warm friend of Mr. Blaine this morning. "I am on my way to get a ticket of admission, because they are soon going to be in demand, and I do not want to get left." Said this gentleman, "Just see what a spectacle it will be. There is Arthur and his suite, Blaine and his following; the democrats anxious to see how the republican quarrel will turn; the politicians of all sorts on the alert, and practically an audience of 50,000,000 people following every word thereof. I take it that a good deal more will be thought of Blaine in that meeting than of Garfield. Exactly what the orator of the occasion will say cannot now be prophesied, but his words will be chosen. His position is one of extreme delicacy and the effects of his speech will extend as far into the future as the year 1884. Mr. Blaine probably will not confine himself to a full eulogy of the amiable private life of the dead president. He will describe as he has a right to describe, the public life of his friend during those last months of his life when he was shaping that policy by which he wished to commend himself to the American people. It is notorious that in these designs and aspirations no one was closer to the president than the secretary of state, nor is any one better qualified to declare to the American people what would have been the policy of their lamented president. To describe the past and paint the future of the Garfield administration is one branch of his subject which the orator of the occasion can scarcely avoid, and in the circumstances and surroundings of that night such an address will of necessity be more than a mere tribute of affection to the dead."

FEES OF DOCTORS.

The fee of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3 00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1000 and all the year's sickness.—Post

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Prescott of New York Arouses the Anger of the California Delegation.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR GIVES HIS FIRST DINNER PARTY.

General Sherman to take Another Pacific Coast Tour—Demands of the Agricultural Department on the Treasury.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The California delegation in congress have to-day received a memorial signed by the judges of the superior court and a large number of prominent citizens of San Francisco representing that Daniel McSweeney, now imprisoned by the British government in Ireland, is a citizen of the United States, and has resided 25 years in San Francisco, where his family still reside, and requesting the delegation to endeavor to obtain some intervention by our government to secure justice and protect his rights as an American citizen. The two senators and four members of the house have promptly united in a letter to the secretary of state, transmitting this memorial and requesting that the case be given all possible attention. Representative Berry received a letter about a week ago from McSweeney's daughter on the same subject, and thereupon personally wrote the secretary in regard to it. The state department is known to be in correspondence with the British government concerning all cases of this sort, but what progress has been made, if any, has not been announced.

Prescott Creates a Furore.

During the house debate on the apportionment bill to-day Prescott, of New York, tried to make a point in defense of the census commission by saying that although the allotment of only five members to California would leave an unrepresented surplus of 68,000 souls, this would not be unjust, he said, because the California constitution and laws deprived 75,000 Chinese of the right to vote, and hence under the fifteenth amendment the representation ought to be reduced proportionately. This statement brought the Pacific representatives to their feet to correct it, but Prescott declined to yield. Page subsequently tried to get the floor to expose the fallaciousness of its argument by showing that the fifteenth amendment does not apply to persons who are debarred from naturalization by the United States laws, and that California merely conformed to the federal statute on that subject; but the previous question can be recalled by Prescott and no opportunity for their exposure was afforded. The bill will undoubtedly be passed to-morrow upon the basis of the amendment adopted this afternoon fixing the total number of representatives at 345 and thus giving California 6 members.

Arthur's First State Dinner.

President Arthur gave his first state dinner to-night at the executive mansion to thirty-seven guests, the heads and acting heads of various foreign legations at Washington. It was the first White House dinner given by this administration and the first dinner given to a diplomatic body in four years. The executive mansion was thrown open and lighted throughout. The east room, where the president received guests, and remaining lower rooms of the mansion, were beautifully adorned with wreaths and flowers. A floral ship sent from Boston to President Garfield for his inauguration, was freshly rigged and loaded with flowers, and had a place of honor among the decorations of the dining table.

Unfinished Business.

Senator Miller did not press his motion to take up the Chinese bill after passage of the anti-polygamy bill, because it was apparent that a majority of senators were desirous to get the arrears of pensions resolution out of the way, as the latter has been going over from time to time as partially discussed and unfinished business for nearly a month, and Ingalls, who has charge of it, expressed confidence it can be finally disposed of to-morrow. If this is accomplished there will be only one unfinished matter to dispute precedence with other bills, namely, Morrill's tariff commissioners bill, and in any event debate upon the last named measure is not likely to continue long, for a number of set speeches on it have already been delivered.

Agricultural Expectations.

Among the provisions of the agricultural appropriation bill are the purchase, propagation and distribution of seeds, $80,000; investigating diseases of domestic animals, $250,000; continuing investigation as to insects injurious to agriculture, $25,000; for examination of wool and animal fabric, $10,000; for collecting data respecting agricultural needs of the country west of the Rocky mountains, $50,000; to enable the commissioner to investigate and report upon the subject of forestry, $50,000; to continue investigation in that section of country where Rocky mountain locusts supposed to breed with a view of reporting the amount of damage likely to be inflicted in Mississippi valley, $5000.

Expected Reduction of Taxes.

A member of the ways and means committee said to-day that he had no doubt that the committee will report in favor of reducing the tax on whisky and tobacco, but did not believe the reduction would be as much as suggested. He thought the whisky tax would be reduced to about 70c. His idea is that the committee will first agree to cut down internal taxation by certain figures and then apportion the reduction among various articles which bear that tax.

Effect of Reduced Revenues.

Commissioner Raum stated before a committee to-night that a reduction of tax on spirits from 90 to 75 cents a gallon would reduce the revenue $10,000,000. Reduction of the tax on tobacco from 16 to 12 cents, would cause a loss of $3,875,000, and on cigars from $6 to $5 per thousand would reduce it $2,666,000.

General Sherman's Trip.

General Sherman, accompanied by General Pope and Col. Morrow, will leave about the 1st of March for a tour of inspection in the departments of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona and all principal posts of the frontier of these states and visits are to be paid to the Yosemite valley and San Francisco, the trip occupying eight or ten weeks.

Bills Reported Favorably.

The house banking and currency committee to-day decided to report favorably the substitute for the two trade dollar bills, which provides for the redemption of trade with standard dollars, the redeemed trades to be regarded as bullion and go in on the monthly purchases. The amount subject to exchange will be $9,000,000.

How to Settle Porter's Case.

The cabinet to-day considered the Fitz John Porter case and stated the only legal redress is for the president to pardon Porter, thus removing the disqualifications from holding office and then restore him to the army by renomination.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—After [illegible] the debate on [illegible] amendments the anti-polygamy bill passed last night by a viva voce vote. No negative responses were heard when that vote was taken.

After considering several bills on the calendar, without action, the senate agreed to adjourn over until Monday, and then ordered an executive session.

When the doors were reopened the pension arrears resolution was taken up and laid over as unfinished business.

House bill providing that compensation authorized by the [illegible] deficiency may be to assignees in writing or persons holding a power of attorney; passed.

Kellogg introduced bills providing for appropriations for improvement of the river front of New Orleans, $300,000; improvement of certain southern rivers, $175,000; building of lock at the mouth of bayou Plaquemine, $250,000; building a postoffice and court house at Shreveport, $250,000; at Opelousas, $250,000; building a custom house and postoffice at Morgan City, $150,000.

House.

Springer moved to reconsider the vote by which the Colerick amendment to the apportionment bill was rejected yesterday. The amendment provides that the governor of any state may call a special election when the legislature fails to redistrict the state before election of representatives.

The house tabled the resolution, 130 to 114, and the yeas and nays were then ordered on Colerick's substitute, fixing the number of representatives at 316. Rejected; nays 154 yeas 91.

Question then recurred on the substitute offered by Page of California, providing that the house shall be composed of 319 members. This Page decided to withdraw, but as it was favored by a number of democrats, objection was made. It was however, rejected—yeas 99; noes 145.

The previous question was then ordered on final passage of the bill, pending which Colerick of Indiana moved to recommit with instructions to the committee on census to report a provision that in a state where the number of representatives is reduced, it shall be lawful for the governor after the state shall be redistricted, to provide for a special election. Motion to recommit was lost—yeas 107; noes 145. The bill then passed without division. It is as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., that after the 3d of March, 1883, the house of representatives shall be composed of 325 members, to be apportioned among the several states as follows: [The apportionment is the same as that published in yesterday's OREGONIAN.—ED.]

Section 2d—That whenever a new state is admitted the representative or representatives assigned it shall be in addition to the number of 325.

Section 3d—That in each state entitled under this apportionment to the same number to which such state may be entitled in the 48th, and each subsequent congress shall be elected by districts composed of contiguous territory and containing nearly as possible an equal number of inhabitants, and equal in number to the representatives to which such state may be entitled in congress, no one district to be allowed more than one representative; provided, that unless the legislature of such state shall otherwise provide before the election of such representatives shall take place as provided by law. Where no change shall be hereby made in the representation of a state, three representatives thereof of the 48th congress shall be elected therein as now provided by law. If the number as hereby provided for shall be larger than it was before this change, then the additional representative under this apportionment may be elected by the state at large. Where the representatives to which a state is entitled by districts as now prescribed by law in such state, if the number hereby provided for shall in any state be less than it was before the change hereby made, the whole number to such state hereby provided for shall be otherwise provided for before the time fixed by law, or before the next election of representatives thereby.

All acts and past acts inconsistent therewith are hereby repealed.

Memorials against the treatment of Jews in Russia and polygamy in Utah were presented.

A night session ordered for Monday instead of Tuesday.

House went into a committee of the whole, Horr of Michigan in the chair, upon private claims.

The first bill on the calendar was one authorizing the restoration of Thomas Little to the army with the rank of captain.

McCook of New York, in opposing the bill sent to the clerk's desk to have read the affidavit of Thomas Little, and which was taken from the files of the war department. The language of the affidavit was so gross that many ladies left the galleries, and reading was stopped by objection from Springer of Illinois and Moore of Tennessee, on the ground that it was obscene, and it was stricken from the record. The affidavit however had signal effect, and by an overwhelming vote the enacting clause of the bill was stricken out, thus defeating the measure.

The next bill was one authorizing the president to place Wm. P. Chambliss, late major of the fourth cavalry upon the retired list. On this bill the democrats refrained from voting, thus leaving the committee without a quorum, whereupon the same recommendation of the committee as to the bill relative to Thos. Little was agreed to by the house and the enacting clause was stricken out.

Valentine of Nebraska reported the agricultural appropriation bill to the committee of the whole.

The speaker laid before the house a message from the president in further compliance with the house resolution calling for the correspondence respecting war on the Pacific and transmitting the report of the secretary of state and accompanying documents; referred. House adjourned.

Legislative Notes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Indians regard suspiciously the bill to establish U. S. courts in Indian territory, thinking it will open the territory to white settlers. The committee to-day proposed to them the extension of U. S. criminal laws only over their territory. This they received favorably and the bill will probably be so framed.

Miller, of New York, presented the senate a memorial from the Union League Club of New York, signed by ex-Secretary Evarts, favoring Blair's bill to appropriate $15,000,000 for public education.

A vast number of petitions are being received by both houses praying for legislation to regulate interstate commerce and prevent extortions and discriminations by common carriers.

Gladstone's Decision.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Gladstone, in the house of commons, last evening, eloquently defended the Irish policy of the government. Referring to his recent utterance respecting home rule, he declared he had simply repeated, regarding a local government for Ireland, what he had often said that the supremacy of the British parliament must be maintained. The country cannot give Ireland what it cannot give Scotland.

Tales of Horror from Russia.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—A correspondent at Vienna vouches for the truth of the statement that in Yelisavetgrad, Kief, Odessa, and several other cities over two hundred and fifty women were outraged by Jew baiters. During a disturbance at Kief, General Dreuschau when appealed to for protection said it was not worth while risking soldiers' lives. At Odessa petroleum was poured on a man's head and set fire to and the man died in great agony. Many children were mercilessly killed.

The Price of Liberty.

New Pay System.

The following circular, issued by Mr. R. L. Belknay, treasurer of the Northern Pacific at New York, explains itself:

Commencing with January, 1882, all employes of this company will be paid by drafts of the paymaster, payable by the treasurer in New York city, by disbursing officers in St. Paul, Minn., Helena, M. T., and Portland, Or., and by station agents when in funds. Banks and merchants on the line of the road cashing these checks and forwarding them to the disbursing officers in St. Paul or Portland will have currency in exchange for same forwarded them by express, free of charges over the lines of this company. It is believed that these drafts, while protecting the interests of the company, will serve as a convenient form of exchange among banks and merchants along the line of the road on New York, St. Paul and Portland.

THE ANTI-POLYGAMY BILL.

Full Text of the Measure as Passed by the Senate February 16, 1882.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The following is the anti-polygamy bill as passed by the senate.

Be it enacted, etc., that section three hundred and fifty two, revised statutes of the United States be, and the same is hereby amended, so as to read as follows, namely:

Every person who has a husband or wife living, who in any territory or other place over which the United States has exclusive jurisdiction, hereafter marries another, whether married or single, and any man who hereafter simultaneously or on the same day marries more than one woman in the same territory or other place, over which the United States has exclusive jurisdiction, is guilty of polygamy and shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars and by imprisonment for a term of not less than five years; but this section shall not extend to any person by reason of any former marriage, whose husband or wife by such marriage shall have been absent for five successive years, and is not known to such person to be dead, nor to any person by reason of any former marriage which shall have been dissolved by valid decree of a competent court, nor to any person by reason of any former marriage which shall have been pronounced void by the valid decree of a competent court on the ground of the nullity of the marriage contract.

Section two provides that the foregoing provisions shall not affect the prosecution or punishment of any offense already committed against the section amended by the first section of this act.

Section three provides that if any male person in a territory or other place over which the United States have exclusive jurisdiction shall hereafter cohabit with more than one woman he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $300 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both said punishments in discretion of the court.

Section four provides that counts for any or all of the offenses named in sections one and two of this act may be joined in the same information or indictment.

Section five provides that in any prosecution for bigamy, polygamy or unlawful cohabitation under any statute of the United States it shall be sufficient cause of challenge to any person drawn or summoned as juryman or talesman; first, that he is or has been living in the practice of bigamy, polygamy or unlawful cohabitation with more than one woman, or that he is or has been guilty of any offense punishable by either of the foregoing sections, or by section 5352 of revised statutes of the United States, or the act of July 1, 1862, entitled "An act to punish and prevent the practice of polygamy in the territories of the United States and other places, and disapproving and annulling certain acts of the legislative assembly of the territory of Utah; or, second, that he believed it right for a man to have more than one living or undivorced wife at the same time, or was in the practice of cohabiting with more than one woman, and any person appearing or offered as juror or talesman and challenged on either or the foregoing grounds may be questioned on his oath as to the existence of any such cause of challenge. Other evidence may be introduced bearing upon the question raised by such challenge and this question shall be tried by the court; but as to the first ground of challenge before mentioned, the person challenged shall not be bound to answer if he shall say upon his oath that he declined on the ground that his answer may tend to criminate himself; and if he shall answer as to said first ground, his answer shall not be given in evidence in any criminal prosecution against him for any offence named in sections 1 or 3 of this act. But if he declines to answer on any other ground he shall be rejected as incompetent.

Section 6 provides that the president is hereby authorized to grant amnesty to such classes of offenders guilty of bigamy, polygamy or unlawful cohabitation before the passage of this act on such conditions and under such limitations as he shall think proper, but no such amnesty shall have effect unless the conditions thereof shall be complied with.

Section 7 provides that the issue of bigamous or polygamous marriages, known as Mormon marriages, in cases in which such marriages have been solemnized according to ceremonies of the Mormon sect in any territory of the United States, and such issue as shall have been born before the first day of January, anno domini eighteen hundred and eighty-three are hereby legitimatized.

Section eight provides that no polygamist, bigamist or any person cohabiting with more than one woman, and no woman cohabiting with any of her sons described as aforesaid in this section in any territory or other place over which the United States have exclusive jurisdiction, shall be entitled to vote at any election held in any such territory or other place, or be eligible for election or appointment to or be entitled to hold any office or place of public trust or emolument in, under or for any such territory or place, or under the United States.

Section nine provides that all registration and election of officers of every description in the territory of Utah are hereby declared vacant, and each and every duty relating to the registration of voters, the conduct of elections, receiving or rejection of votes and canvassing and returning of the same and in issuing of certification or other evidence of election in said territory, shall until other provision be made by legislative assembly of said territory, as is here enacted by this section provided, shall be performed under the existing laws of the United States and of said territory by proper persons who shall be appointed to execute such offices and perform such duties by a board of five persons, to be appointed by the president by and with the advice and consent of the senate, not more than three of whom shall be members of one political party and the majority of whom shall be a quorum. The members of the said board so appointed by the president shall each receive salary at the rate of $3000 per annum and shall continue in office until the legislative assembly of said territory shall make provision for filling said offices as herein authorized. The secretary of the territory shall be the secretary of the said board and keep a journal of its proceedings and the attestations of said board under this section, the canvass and return of all votes at any election in said territory for members of the legislative assembly thereof shall also be returned to said board, which shall canvass all such returns and issue certificates of election to those persons who being eligible for such election shall appear to have been lawfully elected, which certificates shall be deemed evidence of the right of such persons to sit in such assembly, provided, said board of five persons shall not exclude any persons otherwise eligible to vote, from the polls, on account of any opinion such person may entertain on the subject of bigamy and polygamy, nor shall they refuse to count any such vote on account of evidence of the person casting it on the subject of bigamy or polygamy, but each house of such assembly after its organization shall have power to decide upon elections and qualifications of its members, and at or after the first meeting of said legislative assembly whose members shall have been elected and returned according to the provisions of this act, said legislative assembly may make such laws, conformable to the organic act of said territory, and not inconsistent with any other laws of the United States as it shall deem proper, concerning the filling of offices in said territory declared vacant by this act.

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,

120 Broadway, New York.

LIFE INSURANCE PROFITS DEMONSTRATED BY ACTUAL SETTLEMENTS MADE PRIOR TO 1882.

The Society is now paying maturing Tontine Policies with the following remarkable results:

POLICIES CARRIED TEN YEARS WITH THE RETURN OF ALL PREMIUMS PAID AND INTEREST THEREON.

1st Example: Policy No. 43,563, issued May 25, 1869. Amount........$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (11 years)........5,504 60
The assured was entitled to draw, in cash, $6,455.90 having had besides $10,000 of assurance for eleven years. 115 per cent. of premiums paid, returnable in cash.

This example and those which follow show that

LARGER PROFITS ARE PAID POLICY-HOLDERS THAN ARE NOW DECLARED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY.

2d Example: Policy No. 56,543, issued Dec. 30, 1870. Endowment 20 years. Tontine Period ten years. Amount........$10,000 00
Total premiums paid (10 years)........7,530 00
The assured on Dec. 30, 1880, was entitled to draw in cash, $9,033 30, 120 per cent. of the premiums paid.
These results, although predicted by carefully made estimates, are

NOT ESTIMATES, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS.

3d Example: Policy No. 41,821, issued March 27, 1869. Amount........$5,000 00
Total premiums paid........2,908 96
In this case the assured withdrew, March 27, 1880, in cash, $3,312 45, being 114 per cent. of premiums paid.
Many policies will be thus paid in 1882, showing

CASH RETURNS OF FROM 100 TO 120 PER CENT. OF THE PREMIUMS PAID.

Assets securely invested of $43,000,000. Surplus, nearly $10,000,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past eleven years the total amount of new policies issued has been greater than that of any other company in existence, thus making its average

ANNUAL NEW BUSINESS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY.

The Society pays death claims promptly and in full. Its policies are clear and concise, and with no unreasonable conditions.

EVERY POLICY BECOMES INCONTESTABLE AFTER THREE YEARS.

The Daily Oregonian
SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 18, 1882

THE PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

It [illegible] follows [illegible] the laws of our government [illegible] but on [illegible] to propose large [illegible] amendments to the constitution [illegible] have been [illegible] in the few weeks [illegible] present session of congress. That eight of the eleven [illegible] has been suggested by members of the minority may indicate several important things, but nothing more certainly than that eight of the eleven will not pass. Some of the proposed changes have merit but not one is likely to get a two thirds vote, and all will probably die with the session.

Beltzhoover, a Pennsylvania bourbon, desires to have the president and vice president elected under a modification of the principle of minority representation by a popular vote. His plan is [illegible] as it is long. It would not introduce any [illegible] change in the electoral system but it would afford countless opportunities for fraud in the canvassing of the popular vote. Beltzhoover has another amendment authorizing the supreme court to declare what constitutes presidential disability. There is point to this second proposition. President Garfield was undoubtedly physically unqualified for the duties of his office from the 2d of July to his death, yet in the absence of precedent or direction, the vice president could not assume duties which properly belonged to him. Another occasion may arise at any time and it would be well to have the question settled.

Senator George of Mississippi is the author of two inchoate constitutional amendments. One of them would make United States judges elective officers. The other provides that postmasters, marshals, district attorneys, clerks of courts and all other civil officers, excepting officers concerned in collection, disbursement and safe keeping of the revenues and officers of the departments and of congress shall be elected by the people. Mr. George is a new senator, and exceedingly original in his ideas of constitutional reform. He was a judge of the Mississippi supreme court before he was elected to the senate.

Mr. Geddes, of Ohio, desires to have the appointment of public officers (except cabinet officers) made by a commission of three, and to have the tenure of office of persons so appointed fixed at four years. Geddes, who is a democrat, evidently sees no immediate hope for his party in the present methods of appointment to office.

Berry, of California, democrat, desires to have the state legislatures prohibited from ratifying amendments to the national constitution except at the regular session held following the election of the more numerous branch of the legislature. He also wishes to have maximum rates of fare for passengers on railroads fixed by constitutional amendment. Berry has a third idea—namely that the president should be made ineligible to a re-election; that he should receive a pension of $6000 per annum on retiring, and that cabinet officers should be ineligible for the term succeeding that in which they have served as heads of departments.

Mr. Thomas, of Illinois, desires to have polygamy abolished by constitutional amendment but as the same ends can be reached by legislation his amendment is unnecessary.

Mr. McCoid, of Iowa, has an amendment relative to the election of president and vice-president, which he introduced in the forty-sixth congress, but was unable to get beyond the initial stages.

Mr. Bayne, of Pennsylvania, proposes to each state having over 2,000,000 inhabitants an additional senator for each 1,000,000 in excess thereof. An amendment of this nature Mr. Bayne ought to know would require the consent of every state in the union. The constitution provides "No state without its consent shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate," and, at the time the union was formed the little fish in order that they might forever be protected from the big fish forced this provision and its clear expression. If Mr. Bayne's amendment should pass both houses by unanimous vote, it would meet a speedy death in the legislatures of Rhode Island, Delaware and the other smaller states.

THE DOOM OF POLYGAMY.

At last an effective measure for suppression of polygamy has passed the senate and will doubtless pass the house. It is a measure which will give great trouble to those who hitherto have successfully defied all the laws enacted by the United States against the peculiar immorality and barbarism of the self-styled "latter day saints." The value of this act is not so much in the penalties provided as in the methods to be employed to enforce them. The bill rightly strips the Mormons of all power. It sweeps away by a single stroke the territory of Utah as a political community regulating its internal affairs on the basis of general suffrage, disfranchises all polygamists of both sexes and constitutes a commission to govern the territory until a legislature chosen at an election in which polygamists shall not participate shall assemble and take action. All the elective offices of the territory as now filled are declared vacant, and to make the issues of trials for punishment of polygamy sure, no polygamist is to be allowed to sit upon a jury. The full text of this most radical and thorough measure will be found in our telegraphic columns. Public opinion is so strong that the house can hardly avoid passing the bill.

The effect of this radical measure of legislation can as yet only be conjectured. The ultimate effect, indeed, can hardly be doubted. The act is the doom of polygamy. But the immediate consequences no one can foretell. Hitherto the Mormons banded together in a conspiracy of desperation have shown themselves equal to any enormity of crime that promised them protection and defense. A religious superstition has added to their energy and reinforced their fortitude. Strange to say, the strength of their polygamous organization rests to a large extent on the constancy and devotion of the women whom it misuses and degrades—and yet not so strange either when it is remembered that the women are mainly drawn from the most ignorant and degraded classes of the old world whose religious faith warped from its true objects is centered upon this social abomination as upon a sacred thing.

The history of Mormonism would render it probable that attempts will be made to meet this sweeping act by the most criminal and desperate retaliation. Experience has shown that a Mormon community is a society organized and prepared for murder or for whatever form of crime it may deem expedient for its protection. Were Utah the isolated and remote territory it once was attempts to enforce this act would undoubtedly be followed by assassination of officials charged with the duty, as well as of private citizens taking part in sustaining them. Even now this is to be feared and the government should exercise the wise precaution of seeing that the officials charged with the duty of destroying this social and political abomination [illegible] military force [illegible] might [illegible] suppress [illegible] an attempt which may be made to [illegible] the adherents of the Mormon hierarchy to [illegible] vengeance.

AGAINST THE LOGAN BILL.

The following resolution offered at the [illegible] of the temperance alliance [illegible] on Thursday was adopted:

Resolved, That this alliance [illegible] the bill [illegible] in the senate of the United States [illegible] the revenue [illegible] the liquor traffic [illegible] and [illegible] in this [illegible] all the senators and representatives in congress who support the bill.

The resolution [illegible] comes from [illegible] at the subject from a purely theoretical and [illegible] point of view. The alliance [illegible] unable to see anything beyond its intense desire to stop the manufacture and sale of liquors altogether [illegible] ing a tax on liquors [illegible] be used for [illegible] education of the people. [illegible] well then liquors will continue to be manufactured, sold and consumed whether [illegible] pay [illegible] tax or not. For ourselves we don't want whisky and [illegible] made free throughout the land for free [illegible] taxed they will be [illegible]. And even in localities [illegible] cities—where nominally prohibited they are not prohibited in fact. In most rural communities there is usually prohibition without law. In the larger towns and cities no power can enforce prohibition because the people do want it. It is just as well to be plain about the matter. The liquor trade in one form or another is one of the leading activities of every considerable city. Multitudes of strictly temperance people have or suppose they have direct or indirect pecuniary interests in it. If any one is at a loss to know how, just let him inquire who own the 5000 buildings in which liquors are sold in a city like Chicago and the 10,000 dwellings occupied by persons engaged in the trade. Now since manufacture, sale and consumption of liquors will certainly continue, let us collect all the money possible from the traffic. A high tax, thoroughly enforced, has besides the effect of limiting abuses and increasing the responsibility of those engaged in it. Liquors and tobacco are not necessaries. They are noxious, filthy and offensive things and either a nuisance or a curse to multitudes even who do not use them. The necessaries of life are taxed—the wool we wear on our backs, the shoes that protect our feet, the sugar wherewith we sweeten our tea, the nails which secure the roof over our heads. But the free whisky people on one side meet the ultra temperance folk on the other with a joint demand that liquors shall not be taxed;—on the one side because they want no restriction and on the other because entire (and impossible) restriction is demanded. True wisdom consists in doing the best that can be done under given circumstances. Apply this to the liquor problem, and the result is the tax and license system. It may be a matter of no particular concern whether the money thus obtained be appropriated directly to popular education or first put into the treasury and then taken out for the purpose. But the advantage of the Logan bill is that it would assure a very large and steady sum for a most excellent and necessary purpose.

THE UMATILLA RESERVATION.

Mr. George's bill providing for allotment of lands in severalty to the Indians residing upon the Umatilla reservation and granting patents therefor is drawn up with careful elaboration. It allots to each head of family 160 acres; to each single person over eighteen years of age 80 acres; to each orphan child under eighteen years of age 80 acres, and to each child not otherwise provided for 40 acres. Allotments to heads of families and to children under eighteen years of age belonging to families are to be granted upon selections made by heads of families, allotments to persons over eighteen years of age not classed as heads of families are to be made upon their own selection, and other allotments upon selections made by persons authorized therefor by the department at Washington. In addition to those allotments the bill provides for reservation of a "reasonable amount of pasture and timber lands to be used by the Indians in common" to be determined by the commission intrusted with superintendence of the distribution of the lands. All the residue of lands not allotted to the Indians must be appraised and sold for their benefit to actual settlers only for the space of three years from the date when such lands shall be declared open for settlement and subject to sale, after which period the lands which may remain may be purchased without settlement and without limit as to quantity. The funds arising from the sale of the lands are to be placed in the treasury of the United States to the credit of the Indians, and are to draw five per cent interest for their benefit, though twenty per cent of the amount may be used under direction of the president in assisting the Indians to establish themselves upon their allotments. It is supposed that the lands to be distributed to the Indians under this bill would not exceed one half the area of the arable lands of the reservation.

Considerable discussion has been raised in congress and elsewhere over the reported incarceration of American citizens in British prisons in Ireland. If, as appears to be the case, these persons have been engaged in the prosecution of schemes intended to subvert governmental authority in Ireland, the fact of their naturalization or birth in America should have no weight in the matter of their release. Those who wage war on a friendly government and when caught expect the protecting arm of the United States to be thrown around them, should learn their mistake at once. It is safe to say that England would not knowingly place in jeopardy a citizen of the United States, unless engaged in actions which no government could permit without endangering the perpetuation of its power.

A grand scheme is now on hand to dam the tributaries of the upper Mississippi and create a system of reservoirs for retention of the waters in time of freshets and then gradual release as needed for supply of water powers and for navigation of the Mississippi. Minnesota would contain the larger part of this great reservoir system. Large appropriations are wanted of course. It is curious to observe that millions are wanted at either end of the Mississippi—at its sources to obstruct and its mouth to release its waters.

The Michigan sufferers are making good use of their lien on public sympathy. From statistics furnished by the state relief committee it appears that there were 1164 dwellings consumed, and about 600 persons deprived of their homes. The amount of relief distributed to the 1464 families has been something over a million of dollars, in money and supplies. About 99 per cent. of the funds have been donated by people in the cities and towns and 1 per cent by the farmers, although 90 per cent of the sufferers were farmers.

CITY.

THE DEPOT.—Mr Charles F McKim, the architect who arrived here recently with plans for a grand union depot and general offices, will return to New York, leaving by the Columbia to-morrow afternoon. His mission was to examine and report whether stone of sufficient beauty and durability could be obtained in this state and to ascertain its cost. Secondarily he was to confer with the local officers relative to location of the buildings. Mr McKim has busied himself with examination of stone from several quarries and acquiring information from experts and builders. He said yesterday to an OREGONIAN representative that he was able to report and would report that suitable stone could be obtained at reasonable cost. The company owns three eligible sites, and one will probably be selected after Mr McKim's return, not sooner. Mr Villard in his plan for this edifice, adopted what experience in the United States has taught to be most practical, and with this, has combined many ornamental features of the handsomest depots of Europe, particularly those of the Orleans depot in Paris. It will be the most substantial and costliest edifice of its kind in America.

ANOTHER PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION.—Forty members of the First Presbyterian church have taken preliminary steps to organize another congregation, and will hold their first meeting to-morrow morning at Westminster chapel, corner of Eleventh and Main streets. Should Rev. Mr Hill, of Salem, who is expected up from Astoria, arrive, they will effect a legal organization to-morrow. This movement is made because the present edifice is too small to hold the membership, and because those who have decided to separate themselves believe that the cause of religion as taught by the Presbyterian church will be better served by two congregations and two bodies of workers than by one. As a gentleman who has taken an active interest in the new organization tersely remarked, this is "the swarming of the overflow." Regular services will be held temporarily in Westminster chapel, but the congregation intend to commence construction of a church edifice early in the summer.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, BENEFIT.—A large attendance last evening at the Congregational church welcomed the very interesting readings by Miss Adelia Luse. The programme was varied, opening with "The Singing School," after which the humorous rendering of the "Naughty Little Girl at the Hotel" elicited loud applause. "The Bells" by Edgar Poe, which were given by request, fell like gentle symphonies on the ears. The most comical piece was the "Mouse Hunting," but not perhaps for the individual who felt the creeping, twisting, tickling business of the little creature up his pantaloons. "The Doom of Claudius and Cynthia," "The Green Mountain Justice," "The Model Church," "The Dead Doll" and "The Drummer's Bride" and others were all well rendered. The exercises closed with "How Ruby Played," the artist imitating all the varieties of tone of the piano.

BREAKING DOWN.—Jack Powers, under sentence of death for killing Ben Cornelius is growing pale, sad and careworn. He occupies an iron cage at night but during the day, when he is able, is allowed to mingle with other prisoners. He suffers very much from the bullet in his cheek and it is said the lower part of his face is partially paralyzed. His confinement has made serious inroads on his constitution.

COMPROMISE WITH CREDITORS.—Yesterday afternoon, the Portland creditors of J. Wagner & Co., grocers, held a meeting at the rooms of the Merchants' Protective Union, and agreed to accept a settlement at sixty cents on the dollar, fifty per cent secured and ten per cent unsecured. The same proposition will be made to San Francisco creditors. Liabilities of the firm are about $10,000.

ARRAIGNED TO PLEAD.—Harry Lawrence, Nathan Darrough and Lilly Parker, of the Cascades robbery notoriety, were arraigned in the circuit court yesterday, and all three entered a plea of "not guilty." Frank Carroll and Patrick Lynch, who are accused of attempted highway robbery also plead "not guilty." It has not yet been determined when their trial will take place.

TWO FINGERS LACERATED.—About 8 o'clock yesterday morning F. C. Hansfus, a sawyer employed at Sorensen's wood yard, by some means touched a rapidly revolving circular saw with his left hand, and had two fingers so badly cut that they had to be amputated a short time after. The accident will necessarily keep him from his work for some time.

LARGE LOAD.—The steamer City of Salem arrived at 2 P. M. yesterday from Harrisburg with the largest freight she ever brought down the river—260 tons. Since being lengthened she is the longest boat that ever went as high as Harrisburg, being nearly 160 feet in hull and 172 feet over all.

NEW LOCOMOTIVES.—The Oregon Improvement company's steamer Umatilla arrived here last night with six freight locomotives for the O. R. & N. Co., which were brought to San Francisco overland on their own wheels. Besides these, thirteen have been ordered which will arrive this spring.

ARAT'S CONDITION.—Nicholas Arat, the Italian shot by Angius, is growing worse and is thought to be suffering from constitutional blood poisoning. His condition yesterday gave rise to the opinion that his wounds will result in death.

MONDAY'S CONCERT.—The box sheet for the orchestral union concert will be open at nine o clock this morning at Prentice & Co's. Reserved seats without extra charge and good locations are yet to be secured.

OPEN TEMPERANCE MEETING.—The open temperance meeting this evening will be addressed by the Rev. R. W. Hill, of Salem, and there will be reports from delegates to the state temperance alliance.

BICYCLE TOURNAMENT.—This evening a bicycle tournament will be held at the pavilion, at which two prizes will be awarded. The occasion will be enlivened by music from a full brass band.

THE COMING FASHIONS FOR SPRING AND SUMMER, 1882.—The three and four button Cutaways are as popular as ever for straight and slender figures. The one and two buttons are worn by stout and rounded figures. The double-breasted sacks are used for traveling. The silk velvet and fancy vestings are again in fashion. The pantaloons are close fitting; and W. J. Quinn leaves on the Columbia for the spring stock.

REMOVAL.—Mr T. J. O'Connor has taken a lease of the old auction house, corner First and Pine streets, and stocked this large wareroom with goods which he offers at private as well as public sale. Horse, stock and furniture sales he makes a specialty. Parties about to quit housekeeping will do well to consult Mr O'Conner who will give his special attention to engagements of this character. Recollect the place.

A bicycle tournament will take place at the pavilion Saturday evening Feb 18th, in which skillful performers will "show up" the points of the beautiful machine. Two handsome prizes to be awarded to the contestants. A full brass band will be in attendance.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It is predicted that the present session of congress will be noted merely for the large number of bills introduced and the small number disposed of.

During the year 1881 2039 vessels were lost at sea and in them was sunk property estimated at £280 000 000. Of this sum £180 000 000 was owned by British people at home or in the colonies.

The New Jersey delegation in congress have ordered a set of silver badges to be presented to the railroad employes who were in charge of trains that conveyed the late president to Long Branch and his remains back to Washington and thence to Cleveland.

A proposition is before the Kentucky legislature that the state liquor license for dealers be increased from $50 to $100, and the merchants from $25 to $50 and that drug stores shall pay a license of $50 per annum, one half of the revenue thus collected to go to the school fund.

There is said to be a scheme afoot by which a republican member is to be gerrymandered out of congress from the ninth Kentucky district, now represented by John D White. It is to take from the district the counties of Whitley and Laurel which give about 800 republican majority and add to it the counties of Clarke and Madison which give about 800 democratic majority.

Alleged Operations.

The San Francisco Chronicle has the following under date of New York Feb 12th. It would be safe to say that all its statements are not worthy of unlimited confidence. Jim Keene is held responsible by Wall street operators for the violent fluctuations recently in Northern Pacific preferred stock. He is said to have "scalped" the stock for a good many profitable "turns" during the week and to have been identified with Villard in a small pool speculation from 70 up. The street however believes that it will be very difficult for these gentlemen to find a market for their stock. One of the latest incentives to speculation is to the effect that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company is to be absorbed by a blind pool known as the Oregon Transcontinental Company. This institution was invented by Mr Villard, whose friends have such supreme confidence in him that when he asked them to subscribe $8,000,000 for it, they did so cheerfully and quickly, and yet no one seems to know whether the company is a traveling circus or an Asiatic exploring organization. The latest rumor about it is that he is further testing the fidelity and solvency of it by a proposition to increase its capital to $15 000,000.

A Voice from the Past.

Walla Walla Union

Away back in 1850 there were grave doubts about the navigability at all seasons of the Columbia. An advertisement in the Oregon Spectator, dated Nov 28, 1850, announced the proposal to build a "railroad from Milton and St Helens to Lafayette," at an estimated cost of $160,000. The projectors of the road, W H Tappan, of St Helens, and Crosby & Smith of Milton, say, "It is almost useless to add, that the terminus of this road should be a point that can be reached with safety by large class vessels at any season and at any stage of the river." To-day, over thirty years afterward, the predicted road is yet to be built, St Helens is a dilapidated town Milton has disappeared from the maps and the Columbia, without improvement, floats vessels larger than the residents of Oregon in 1850 dreamed of.

The Canada Pacific.

Victoria Colonist, Feb 14

The tenders for the contract of the Emory and Port Moody section of the Canada Pacific were up to-day. There were 17 tenders. Mr Montgomery of Portland, Oregon put in a tender for $3 500 000. McMullen & Co., of San Francisco tendered an offer of $3 200,000. Purcell & Ryan of Perth Ont made an offer to construct the road for $3 000 000. Murray & Co., of St Catharines sent in an offer for $2,864,000, Messrs Onderdonk & Mills of New York, offered to do the work for $2 680 000 and Charlevoix & Duncan of Montreal, sent in a tender for $2 480 000. It was rumored that there was a bid for $2 800 000 which was withdrawn. It is not known which tender has been accepted but the supposition is that the offer of Charlevoix & Duncan will be accepted.

Washington Territory

The six box cars that were blown off the side track at Seattle into the bay last week have not yet been recovered.

Vancouver reports the cost of taking care of its one smallpox patient to have been $157 95. There are no other cases.

Isaac Van Eaton, a member of the last territorial legislature and a respected citizen of Thurston county, died at his home near Olympia on the 12th instant.

There was a total of 1459 votes cast for sheriff in the late special election in King county. McGrew the successful candidate of the five who ran, received 541 votes.

The Catholics in the neighborhood of the Lacamas beyond John Sweeney's farm, have bought a building, and are fitting it up for a church. The altar is now being made in Vancouver.

The Bigelow addition to Seattle is selling rapidly. The lands are excellently located, being high and commanding a splendid view of Lake Union as well as of the bay. Blocks are selling from $250 to $900 according to location.

A Gray's harbor correspondent says: There is quite an excitement on the north side about gold. They are taking out $20 per ton washing black sand. They have struck a lead eighteen inches thick running back into the beach. About twenty claims have been taken and all expect to make fortunes.

No snow has yet fallen at Gray's harbor. Work on Simpson's sawmill, at the mouth of the Hoquiam has suspended for the winter. The wharf is completed and the mill timbers machinery and everything necessary for putting up the mill will be brought around from their mill across the river when spring opens, and it is intended to have it in operation by the first of July. The lumber will be shipped in the company's vessels and a steam tug will be put on the harbor and river to tow vessels and logs.

A correspondent writes as follows about the Washington colony located in Whatcom county: The colony had a donation of one half interest in about five hundred acres, made them by H Roeder, C Eldridge and Wm Utter, upon a part of which they are making preparations for laying out and building a town. I think the location a good one, and will undoubtedly make a fine site for a city with plenty of room to build. The surrounding country is almost a level plateau, and the soil is unsurpassed for productiveness anywhere in the territory. They have also purchased the Whatcom water power which has an estimated capacity of about 400 horse power and have in course of construction a large sawmill 40x100 feet which will be completed in about four months. During the coming summer they will build a furniture mill and as soon as practicable a sash and door factory. When these three mills are built it will add quite a revenue to the place and give employment to a large number of men. To one unaccustomed to a timbered country it would seem impossible to clear the land so heavy and dense is the timber around Whatcom but to such men as compose the colony it don't seem in the least discouraging and each and every one seems confident of a grand success attending them for their labors.

Idaho.

Fir wood is $9 per cord in Silver City.

A Jordan valley correspondent under date of Feb 5 says: Up to date our Arctic wave continues to hold its grip with phenomenal intensity. The thermometer ranges from 1 to 27 degrees below zero, interspersed with occasional snow squalls, which keeps piling up snow and increases the anxiety of stockmen. We had one or two warm days, sufficient to melt the snow slightly on top, which was immediately followed by another big fall of the mercury and the consequent forming of a thick crust on the snow. Fresh snow is falling on this heavy crust every few days and is driven by the wind into the gulches and swags, thus causing locomotion to be difficult and almost impossible for stock. A few cattle and horses have died, and the intense and unusual cold, with the insufficient feed they are able to obtain on the partially bare spots on the south hillsides are reducing such stock as are not fed to skeletons, and should a sudden Chinook or a warm spell melt the snow rapidly, over one-half of the stock on the ranges will stick in the mud and die, as they will not have sufficient strength to extricate themselves. No such winter has been experienced here since the winter of '75, when the weather continued cold until March.

ONLY GOING TO THE GATE.

Like a bell at eve on ringing,
  Clear and childish, shrill and sweet,
Floating to the porch's shadow,
  With the fainter fall of feet,
Comes the answer softly backward
  In [illegible] tender watcher wait:
While the baby queen outruns her,
  "Only going to the gate."

Through the moonlight, warm and scented,
  Love to beauty breathes a sigh,
Always to depart reluctant,
  Loth to speak the words good-bye;
Then the same low echo answers,
  Waiting love of older date,
And the maiden whispers softly,
  "Only going to the gate."

Oh, these gates along our pathway,
  What they bar outside and in!
With the vague outlook beyond them,
  Over waves we have not been.
How they stand before, behind us!
  Toll-gates some, with price to pay;
Stern gates some, that shut forever;
  Cloud-gates some, that melt away.

So we pass them going upward
  On our journey one by one,
To the distant shining wicket,
  Where each traveler goes alone—
Where the friends who journey with us
  Strangely falter, stop and wait;
Father, mother, child or lover;
  "Only going to the gate."

TOTAL DEPRAVITY.

Mr. Beecher's Belief in the Continual Improvement of the Human Race.

New York World.

The subject of Mr. Beecher's sermon yesterday morning was the universal adaptability of the human race to improvement. "All truths respecting humanity and divinity turn on a knowledge of mental philosophy," said Mr. Beecher. "The statement that all men fell in Adam, as if like an illimitable fish he had carried within him an egg for universal posterity, is untrue. He and Eve may have fallen, but their posterity was at the time at the bottom, and there was no lower depth for them to fall into. It is said that the human race are born totally depraved, having therefore no power to understand the truth until God gives them grace. These notions are but so many infantile feelings after the truth underlying the facts which one age wrought up to the doctrine of total depravity, and another to the Calvinistic or the Arminian view, but none of these doctrines will fit our mouths, and the man who undertakes to explain them is guilty of moral dishonesty. To talk of Adam's sin being imputed to the entire race is as senseless as it would be to say that Adam's clothes were imputed to the race, or that sin was like smut that runs through the land and leaves a black spot wherever it touches. It is the problem of time as well as of philosophy that men are born at the bottom, and it is the business of life to go up from stage to stage.

This is the American doctrine—that universal human nature is capable of improvement. If God held back this continent from the knowlege of men that he might reserve it as a magnificent experiment, we should have an illustration of what is going on. This is the mustering ground of nations; an anchored ark into which flock all manner of men, running from poverty and oppression for a shelter. It is the call to life and liberty that is bringing the Mennonits and the Jew from Russia; and let them come. All southern Europe is coming—from Germany, France, Italy, Hungary—ignorant, largely criminal, but they are coming. They have been dead, but the call to them is like the call of Christ to Lazarus to be alive again. They are coming not by the hundred thousand but by the million. This nation has always had faith in the individual. It is the old Puritan idea—the worth and the value of the individual man. Men jeer at the Puritan who know no more about him than a pismire knows about an elephant—that it would take him a day to run up his legs and get upon his back. I don't believe that God made this world and then made shipwreck of it and sent out churches as a kind of lifeboats to pick up as many as they can and let the rest go to the bottom. I believe that all can be saved that will. There is no damnation for a man that lives in love and usefulness. My salvation does not turn on any minute examination such as have been oftentimes urged on men. It turns on my sympathy with my kind and with my God, and if I am in perfect sympathy with these it is all well with me."

An Ancient Battle Called to Mind.

Christian Union.

The excavations which have been going on under the famous Lion at Cheronea, where the Bœotians who fell in the battle with Philip of Macedon, August 338, B. C., were interred, have thus far disclosed two hundred and seventy skeletons. Among the most recently examined, two have been found transfixed with iron lances. Six of the skeletons more or less preserved, and remarkable for the fractures of their bones and the firm manner in which they died of their wounds, have been prepared to be taken from their place in plaster and transferred to the museum in Athens, where they will remain among its greatest curiosities and wonders. The face of the monumental lion, who sits with head thrown up, expresses rage, grief and shame, together with that moderation which is characteristic of all Greek art. Pausanias, who wrote about 180 A. D., says: "On approaching the city is the tomb of the Bœotians who fell in the battle with Philip. It has no inscription, but the figure of a lion is placed upon it as an emblem of the spirit of these men. The inscription has been omitted, as I suppose, because the gods had willed that their fortune should not be equal to their prowess." It is interesting that, after the lapse of two thousand two hundred and almost nineteen years, we are able to read in the bodies which have been thus exhumed, in the fractures of their bones, and in the iron lances by which they are pierced, the story of their heroic struggle to maintain the independence of their country!

A CROSS BABY.

Nothing is so conducive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for 5 or 6 hours by the crying of a cross baby. All cross and crying babies need only Hop Bitters to make them well and smiling. Young man remember this.—Traveler.

Girls, don't get Married.

Girls, don't be in a hurry to get married. If you are but 16, don't allow such an idea to get into your head for at least four years. Don't even run the risk of it by permitting any young man to get so far as the proposing point. Fight him off and make him wait or go away to somebody who is ready. Don't live under the impression that you must accept the first lovesick youth who proposes. Be patient, deliberate, and sagacious. There is a world of happiness for you between 16 and 20. The world would be a dreary old waste if it were not for the sweet faces of young girls, with their piquant sayings and melting smiles. Your father has bought you a piano, and you have learned to play it after many long and wearisome lessons. It should all go for nothing if you get married, for after that you won't have much use for your piano. After you have reached 20 it would be well to begin to consider the matrimonial problem with some seriousness.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.
